IAEM welcomes the bestowing of Lord Mayor's award on Mr Patrick Plunkett

The Irish Association for Emergency Medicine welcomes the award by Cllr Vincent Jackson, Lord Mayor of Dublin, bestowed yesterday on Mr Patrick Plunkett, Consultant in Emergency Medicine at St James's Hospital, Dublin in recognition of his work over the years as a volunteer in the St John Ambulance Brigade of Ireland. Mr Plunkett has been a Consultant in Emergency Medicine at St James's Hospital since 1988 and in addition to his work with the St John Ambulance Brigade has been instrumental in developing the speciality of Emergency Medicine in Ireland over the past 20 years.

The award undoubtedly reflects the high esteem in which he is held for his services to the St John Ambulance Brigade, where he is an Assistant Commissioner, as well as having been admitted as a Serving Brother to the Order of St John, but also the contribution that Mr Plunkett has made to Emergency Medicine as well as the contribution Emergency Medicine has made and continues to make to the well-being of the citizens of Dublin.
